Showdown's Here—Do You Want a Union?

Committee To Discuss New $4 Million Union

San Jose State's College Union Committee will meet Thursday at 12:30 p.m. in the Administration Building to discuss a program of informing students about the proposed $4 million structure.

The information will precede a special election in December to decide if SJS students wish to assess themselves a mandatory fee during the coming four years.

The student information program is going ahead with its plans for representatives of State College Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke to give SJS the go-ahead for the union election.

"Regardless of all the work, the critical thing in the whole production is a favorable student vote in December," Dr. Dwight Bentel, chairman of the College Union Committee, said yesterday.

"If the vote is favorable, we will have a union," Dr. Bentel declared.

"This is the showdown," he emphasized.

The information program will be conducted by students and not by the union committee, according to Dr. Bentel.

Steve Larson, ASB president, will head the program, which will include all campus communications media and probably speakers and brochures.

If the vote in the December election is not favorable, "we might as well forget the union for the foreseeable future," Dr. Bentel added.

At least two-thirds of those voting must cast a yes vote for the issue to pass.

Visiting Scholars Committee Sets Interviews Today

Interviews for several vacant positions on the Visiting Scholar Committee, which brings authoritative scholars to campus for informal discussions, will be held today from 3-5 p.m.

The interviews will be conducted in the College Union, where the applications and detailed job descriptions are available.

Three positions are open on the five-year-old Visiting Scholar Committee: chairman, secretary, and public relations officer.

Classic Film Series Opens Tomorrow

The classic film series opens tomorrow in TH55 with the psychological drama, Miss Julie and the cartoon fable, Barbara.

Miss Julie, based on the psychological drama by August Strindberg, shown at 3:30 at 7 p.m., is an excellent cinematic rendering of the play. Anita Bjork is a magnificently repressed and neurotic Julie.

The love of nature, which once characterized the "Golden Era" of Swedish films, is still evident. Of interest to those who are familiar with the play, is Director Sjöberg's treatment of photography to make the film as visually exciting as the dramatic action. The flashback technique employed in the film increases the dramatic action and atmosphere of excitement and subtly balances the galloping nightmare quality of the servant's midsummer eve.

Barbara, a beguiling fable in cartoon style, will be shown on the same program. The jury for the second annual Independent Film Maker's Festival gave Barbara second prize, "because this animated fable is fresh, bright, and adult . . . it is funnily true and truly fun."

Grad Applications

Persons planning to receive their bachelor's degree in January, 1964, may file graduation applications until Oct. 4 in the Registrar's Office, ADM102.

PROPOSED UNION—Here is an artist's conception of the proposed $4 million SJS College Union. Construction of the building will begin in early 1966-67 if students agree to assess themselves mandatory fees during the next four school years. A special election will be held in December.

SJS Freshmen Will Elect Council Reps

Four positions for freshman representative seats on Student Council will be contested in an election scheduled for Oct. 10 and 11.

Council Chairman Bob Pisano stated that all applicants must turn in petitions to the Fresh Representative Election Committee by Oct. 3 at 4 p.m.

Fresh election committee chairman Tom Hawker could be contacted for further information at 297-9958.

The added members will bring Student Council membership to 16.

YRs Ask Unification But Request Ignored

The San Jose State chapter of the Young Republicans will meet Thursday evening to take a stand on recent refusal by the California Young Republicans to accept pleas for a United GOP.

Richard Sutter, president of the SJS group, said yesterday that the YRs will make a recommendation concerning Sunday's refusal at their meeting, 8 p.m. Thursday. The meeting place will be announced at a later date.

Pleas for unification of the Republican party were made at Sunday's closing meeting of the publican State Central Committee in San Francisco. The pleas were ignored by leaders of the organization.

Congressman Glenard P. Lipscomb, chairman of the California GOP delegation, warned the assembled group that a divided party would give the Democrats victory in 1964 by default.

Members of the ultra-conservative State Board of the volunteer Young Republican group disclosed that at a San Mateo meeting, the group defeated a resolution endorsing Senator Barry Goldwater's GOP-unity plan.

The resolution called upon Republicans to refrain from "accusations, charges and actions which tend to divide rather than unite the Republican party."

The Young Republican decision, under the leadership of Robert Gaston, a Goldwater supporter, reportedly came as a surprise to the senior Republicans at the convention.

The YRs again went against their seniors on the civil rights issue. The committee approved continued support for desegregation in the schools, job equality and adopted a resolution for acceleration of job "retraining" programs.

The Young Republicans approved a resolution asserting their belief in "equal right" for all, but expressing the idea that forced "desegregation is psychologically and morally wrong" and will "not achieve true integration."

Time Still Left To Pay Fees, Submit Packets

Four o'clock tomorrow afternoon is the deadline for packets to be turned in and fees to be paid in the new Physical Education and Recreation Building.

They are being taken today from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. and from 5-8 p.m. Tomorrow the doors open at 8 a.m.

Exceptions to this deadline are those students enrolled in Wednesday or Thursday night classes. They can pay their fees and turn in their materials Wednesday or Thursday from 5-8 p.m.

Student Fees Would Climb With Okay of College Union

BY ALLAN RISON

If SJS students decide they want a College Union, they'll begin paying for it next fall.

But first, two-thirds of those voting in a special election in December must say yes for the proposed $4 million building.

If the issue passes, each student will pay an extra $1.50 per semester ($3 yearly) during the 1964-65 school year.

Students with less than six units will pay 75 cents a semester.

The graduated scale goes up to $6 for the 1965-66 school year, with those taking six units or less paying $3.

In 1966-67, students will each pay $12 ($6 per semester). Those with six or fewer units will pay $6 for the year.

And in 1967-68 the payments go up to $18 for the year and $9 for those with six or fewer units.

Construction of the College Union probably will begin early in 1966-67, ASB Pres. Steve Larson said yesterday.

The building will be completed in about two years, Larson pointed out.

An SJS delegation received permission to hold the election from representatives of State College Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke during a meeting Friday in Ingleswood.

British Critic Will Discuss Shakespeare

The 400th anniversary of William Shakespeare's birth will be commemorated tomorrow when Edmund Gardner, drama critic of the Stratford-Upon-Avon Herald, discusses the Royal Shakespeare Company in Concert Hall at 11:30 a.m.

Sponsored by the SJS College Lecture Committee and English Department, Gardner's talk will describe the development of the company as it grew into one of the world's largest theatrical ventures with its own actors' studio and two theaters.

Gardner, who attended King Alfred's College, Wantage, and St. John's College, Cambridge, holds the unique position of being the only full time drama critic among the British provincial weeklies.

His comment page, which includes first night reviews of the Shakespearean Festival in Stratford, Ontario, Canada, has enhanced his reputation as a drama critic on both sides of the Atlantic.

Born in 1926, Gardner gained experience in the theater as a religious drama director and as a professional magician. He became the Herald's drama critic in 1958 and was elected to the British Critics' Circle in 1962.

Gardner's lecture is open to the public without charge.

Play the Guessing Game, Win Trip

Anxious to visit parents, relatives, or friends in the Los Angeles area? Do you like to predict the outcome of football games? Do you like to fly?

If so, the weekly Spartan Daily "Flying Football" contest is for you. If you come the closest to predicting the outcome of six West Coast football games, you will win a free round-trip ticket from San Francisco to Los Angeles on Pacific Southwest Airlines. See tomorrow's Spartan Daily for details.

Guides Sought For Parents' Day

Fifty students are needed to serve as tour guides for Parents' Day, Saturday. The guides will take parents on a one hour tour of the campus, starting at 10 a.m.

All interested students can sign up in the Dean of Students Office until 5 p.m. today. An orientation meeting for tour guides will be held at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon in the College Union.

Two Accepted To Join Coro Intern Program

Former Associated Student Body Pres. Bill Hauck and William Schreiber, a sociology major, have joined 21 other graduates in Coro Foundation's 18th annual internship program.

Coro, established in 1942 to conduct research and education in public affairs, gives awards yearly to outstanding students who compete for the selection.

Hauck, who also served as president of California Colleges Student President Association, will serve in the Los Angeles program, in which 12 other interns work.

Schreiber joins 11 men and women selected for the San Francisco area.

Both will have the opportunity of observing the functions of government, politics, business, labor and trade and charitable organizations during a series of rotating assignments and research projects.

The 24 interns selected each year are chosen on the basis of written and oral ability. Those accepted receive a scholarship grant to cover their expenses during the intern year. Grants amount to $2,250 or $2,700.

The amount of the grant varies according to the number of dependents the intern has. Also there is a $500 tuition charge.

Since Coro considers it important that top persons apply for jobs in public affairs, it selects students most active in student government.

In the past, interns have included 15 student body presidents, eight vice presidents, 17 class presidents and 130 other class and club office holders.

SJS Professor Relates Memories Of Cut-Rate Flight to Europe

By SCOTT MOORE

A cut-rate flight to Europe that was to be simple and inexpensive turned into a nightmare this summer for Dr. E. P. Panagopoulos, associate professor of history, and many other summer Bay Area residents.

Panagopoulos, and hundreds of other students and teachers from San Jose State College, answered the enticing ads and offered cheap flights to and from Europe under a group plan.

COMEDY AND ERROR
The flight of comedy and error that took Panagopoulos to Europe was but one of 11 chartered by the Alto travel agent Jerry Davis. Some of the flights made national headlines when passengers were stranded in New York because the airlines demanded more money from travel agent Davis than he had.

The first indication that their flight was not going to be as simple as they had expected was when Panagopoulos was asked to wait at the Oakland airport eight hours before being advised the flight would be postponed 24 hours.

MORE PEOPLE THAN SEATS
One of 115 people Davis had booked for this flight, Panagopoulos soon found out that the travel agent had sold more tickets than there were seats on the airplane.

DR. E. P. PANAGOPOULOS

The plane seated only 99 passengers.

Ninety-nine of this group of 115 people finally took off for New York. The plane was named the "Pink Cloud" and Panagopoulos is now glad he had to wait for a later flight.

"The 'Pink Cloud' arrived in New York one full motor less than when it started," he said, "and cabin pressure and air conditioning broke down."

A DAY IN NEW YORK

When the plane arrived in New York they again found that Davis had sold more tickets on the Atlantic flight than the plane had seats.

They spent 24 hours in New York while Davis hunted up another plane for them.

They finally ended up with a constellation-type transport plane which, he said, "was transformed virtually in front of our eyes into a passenger plane."

After the seats were fastened and inspected and nine hours of standing and sitting on a cement floor of a temporary terminal, they finally left for Europe.

LONDON?

"Before we left, however, we were told that we would not go to London as scheduled, but to Luxembourg instead," he said.

"So we called London and cancelled our hotel and theater reservations," he said.

But while in the air, they were informed that they would indeed go to London, not Luxembourg.

"So there we were," Panagopoulos said, "99 tourists without reservations of any kind when we landed in London."

The return flight from Europe three months later, left Paris two days late, causing many people to be late to work.

$70, PLEASE

According to Panagopoulos, the weary travelers arrived in New York to find 31 persons who had been waiting four days in order to fly to Oakland with them.

"They had given $70 each, beyond the price they had already paid, to be able to come back with us," he said.

The total flying time of their flight from Paris to Oakland was 37 hours, according to Panagopoulos.

"Even in the old days," he pointed out, "flying time was only 31 hours."

GO WITH BIG ONES

Despite the unfortunate experience with cut-rate plans, Panagopoulos' European tour was "one of the most magnificent traveling experiences I've ever had."

What's the moral of this tale of international adventure?

Simple, says Panagopoulos. "If you go with a chartered plane, make sure you go with a real big company."

Meanderings

By DIANE MAUZY
Feature Editor

A new federal program of assistance to women has been initiated. Constantly harassed by the glorious "knighted" tradition of bachelorhood, the nuptial-minded gals may have better odds going of them now.

It's all because of President Kennedy's decision not to draft, henceforth, any married men between the ages of 19 and 26. That is, as long as there are single men with A- classifications running loose.

As the immediate effect of the presidential order, some 340,000 married men will be exempted from the draft. This leaves a stockpile of nearly 1.7 million single 1A's from which the Selective Service can "select."

If nothing else, single men still have a choice—the lesser of two — (well) ways of life. This all requires, of course, that the women don't become oversensitive and regard their partner's proposal as just an "out" from military service—just because it is.

Note: This is an important stipulation. The married man must "maintain bona fide family relations." Otherwise the postman may bring that letter which begins: "Greetings."

Ex-Peace Corpsmen Comment on Service

By GEORGE WEEKS

United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—With two years of work behind them, most Peace Corps volunteers feel the job was worth the doing.

Those who didn't, found the program blocked by red tape in underdeveloped nations. Some were bitter. They said they could not break through the inertia of the people they were sent to help.

Still others were disappointed with their reception in the nations they were supposed to aid.

Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver told United Press International that the corps asked for comments and criticisms from more than 700 volunteers who have completed their tours of duty.

The Philippines has the greatest number of workers in the Far East. In Africa, there were about 2,208 volunteers either training for African assignments or already on duty.

Shriver said it is the goal of the corps to someday have the entire program managed by ex-volunteers. He said they have seen its shortcomings and successes, and that their help will be invaluable for a "flexible, dynamic Peace Corps."

The consensus of the returning volunteers indicates that most of them feel their service was worthwhile.

But the most frequent comment heard was that the public has the wrong "image" about the corps.

One Peace Corps volunteer said the "volunteer is portrayed in silhouette against a sun going down behind the palms. He has a shovel over his shoulder, a child at his feet, and he is looking onward and upward."

The image, he said, is hard to equate with practice—but adds that the "Peace Corps is doing an amazingly good job from the standpoint of need."

MAD ABOUT MADRAS

Last year you were a novice if you had a Madras scarf. It was a sign of distinction. Now, everyone is "just not in" unless they own at least two Madras skirts. Bedspreeds, tennys, and purses have gone Madras. Now, the ultimate in men's fashions have razed the San Jose State campus. Women, take a look around you—men are turning to the Madras styles. Next will be Madras ties.

FOUR FRESHMEN

Fine Arts Editor Stan Nascimento and myself journeyed to the Safari Room to interview the Four Freshmen last weekend. The rustic African atmosphere was dim, yet I spotted a few San Jose State students there.

Prior to the main performance, a hair-hat, gum-chewing band, calling themselves the Nite-Caps appeared. They attempted a pseudo-intellectual beat, but failed to sound anything better than a first night rehearsal. If you plan to the the Four Freshmen I'd advise catching their act only.

Particularly funny was the interview with the Four Freshmen. Stan introduced himself to the guitar player Bill Comstock and proceeded to question him about his career. Following the interview, Stan rose, shook hands with Bill and said: "It's been nice talking to you Bob." He answered: "My name's Bill, Stan." Which just goes to show even famous men can be temporarily forgotten.

'Responsible' Press Urged by Student

Editor:

One of the most vital forces in society today is the newspaper—a medium by which truth is conveyed to the public.

It is the responsibility of every individual, especially those involved in the writing of newspapers, to make sure that the paper which we read is written with the soundest facts, the highest quality and in the best taste.

And when an individual, especially one in the field of journalism, does speak up and criticize a newspaper for having violated its public responsibility, we the readers should take special note.

Note—not only what he says, but also the fact that he has said it, for too many people today do not and will not take the initiative and say what has to be said not only for themselves but also for their neighbors.

Jerry Arca, editor of the Spartan Daily, did take such a step when he criticized the Campus Voice for having shirked its responsibility to the public with its biased, ludicrous and distasteful style of criticism. Editor Arca has not passed on his responsibility.

If the Campus Voice is supposed to be a force of criticism on this campus, let it be such, but let it also maintain high journalistic ideals and meet its public responsibility as a factual, unbiased and tasteful medium of truth—the biggest and most important force in Democracy.

Richard Rubacher and Ernest Barry, you have been criticized, may you benefit from this criticism, and be as responsible and tasteful in your criticism in the future.

Writer Interprets 'Volcano' Analogy

Editor:

What Al Mason apparently means with his volcano analogy (Thrust and Parry, Friday, Sept. 20) is that as far as he is concerned the Negro can wait for civil rights until hell freezes over.

DENNIS FREGGER
ASB739 (Summer, 1963)

Minister Rejects Civil Rights View

Editor:

When I read Mason's comments on the violence that has erupted in the civil rights crisis in the South, I had a strange feeling that this was a technique to stir controversy. No reasonable person could say with a straight face that those who defy law and order, those who would openly defy the courts, those who would enforce only the laws in which they believed could be found blameless in the current tragic events.

The analogy chosen seems to me to totally disregard the reality of the situation. I was born in Birmingham, Ala. I was graduated from the University of Alabama. I was a legal resident of the state for more than 27 years. The volcano was not cooling in Alabama, it was being stoked by those who would have us believe that God Himself was in the battle to maintain the status quo.

I have been uneasy as to the wisdom of some of the events of the past summer. I have not

THE DEAN YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN

Colleges are complicated and bewildering places, filled with complicated and bewildering people. Today let us examine one of the most complicated and bewildering — yet fetching and lovable — of all campus figures. I refer, of course, to the dean of students.

Policeman and confessor, shepherd and seer, warden and oracle, prosecutor and pal — the dean of students is all of these. How, then, can we understand him? Well sir, perhaps the best way is to take an average day in the life of an average dean. Here, for example, is what happened last Thursday to Dean Killjoy N. Dampier of the Duluth College of Belles Lettres and Penninean.

At 6 a.m. he woke, dressed, lit a Marlboro, and went up to the roof of his house to remove the statue of the Founder which had been placed there during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

Dean, Policeman, Confessor, Shepherd, Seer...etc.

At 7 a.m. he lit a Marlboro and walked briskly to the campus. (The Dean had not been driving his car since it had been placed on the roof of the girls dormitory by high-spirited undergraduates.)

At 7:45 a.m. he arrived on campus, lit a Marlboro and climbed the bell tower to remove his secretary who had been placed there during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

At 8 a.m. he reached his office, lit a Marlboro, and met with E. Pluribus Ewbank, editor of the student newspaper. Young Ewbank had been writing a series of editorials urging the United States to annex Canada. When the editorials had evoked no response, he had taken matters into his own hands. Accompanied by his society editor and two proofreaders, he had gone over the border and conquered Manitoba. With great patience and several Marlboro Cigarettes, the Dean persuaded Young Ewbank to give Manitoba back. Young Ewbank, however, insisted on keeping Winnipeg.

At 9 a.m. the Dean lit a Marlboro and met with Robert Penn Sigafos, president of the local Sigma Chi chapter, who came to report that the Deke house had been put on top of the Sigma Chi house during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

At 10 a.m. the Dean lit a Marlboro and went to umpire an intramural softball game on the roof of the law school where the campus baseball diamond had been placed during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

At 12 noon the Dean had a luncheon meeting with the proxy, the bursar, and the registrar, at the bottom of the campus swimming pool where the faculty dining room had been placed during the night by high-spirited undergraduates. Marlbors were passed after luncheon, but not lighted, owing to darkness.

At 2 p.m., back in his office, the Dean lit a Marlboro and received the Canadian Minister of War who said unless young Ewbank gave back Winnipeg, the Canadian army would march against the U.S. immediately. Young Ewbank was summoned and agreed to give back Winnipeg if he could have Moose Jaw. The Canadian Minister of War at first refused, but finally consented after young Ewbank placed him on the roof of the metallurgy building.

At 3 p.m. the Dean lit a Marlboro and met with a delegation from the student council who came to present him with a set of matched luggage in honor of his fifty years' service as dean of students. The Dean promptly packed the luggage with all his clothing and fled to Utica, New York, where he is now in the aluminum siding game.

©1963 Max Shulman

The makers of Marlboro, who sponsor this column, don't claim that Marlboro is the dean of filter cigarettes — but it's sure at the head of the class. Settle back with a Marlboro and see what a lot you get to like!

Titchenal Sends Three Units Against Wildcats Saturday

By DAVE NEWHOUSE

San Jose State will employ similar strategy to what beat them in the Stanford season opener when Bob Titchenal's warriors engage Kansas State in the season's first home game Saturday at 8 p.m.

Impressed with the performances of several sophomores in their first taste of big-time football, Titch has elected to test three units against the Wildcats.

Stanford shuffled three full units regularly against SJS, having enough depth to overpower the Spartans 29-13. Although not as deep in the backfield as Stanford, Titchenal feels he has enough linemen to keep a fresh forward wall against Kansas State at all times.

"Stanford had more depth than we did," Titchenal said. "Their bigger line and consistency helped beat us."

"I was very pleased with our overall performance. We had good second and fourth quarters. Those two long runs killed us."

Titchenal labeled the 45-yard run-lateral touchdown play as a "fluke." Steve Thurlow escaped from two Spartans before being arrested on the 31. He spotted Dick Ragsdale all alone, lateraled to him, and "Rags" sprinted to his fourth touchdown of the day, setting a new school game record of 24 points.

came to life in the second quarter, almost at once enlivened the running attack. Walt Roberts, leading SJS ball carrier with 42 yards, had repeated second half success with inside handoffs.

The Spartans second touchdown drive, in the fourth quarter — 63 yards in 10 plays — was marched off against a line mostly made up of Stanford first-stringers.

Titchenal said he would know more about his personnel after viewing game films, but signaled out Charlie Haraway and Bob Kroll for individual roles.

Haraway, the 220-pound sophomore fullback, ran his patterns well, although he discovered it's best not to try and meet a 235-pound line-man standing straight up. A meaty Indian separated Charlie and the ball one time, as if the ball was contagious and he didn't think Haraway knew it.

Kroll had 14 tackles, high for both teams. Roberts, who played the entire game, had 12.

Bob Paterson should rank among the nation's punting leaders. He had five punts for a 42.2 average.

Spartans Bury Chico Booters Behind Korbis

San Jose State's soccer team topped Chico State 6-1 Saturday afternoon at Chico.

Led by co-captain Al Korbis, the Spartans came from behind to defeat the Wildcats. Korbis scored four of San Jose State's goals while Lou Fraser and Jerry Koopman each tallied one.

Chico took the lead with a goal by Tony Nichols in the first period but the Spartans rallied for two goals in the second period to edge ahead 2-1.

Chico was checked in the second half by a tough Spartan defense while San Jose State scored two in the third and fourth periods.

Coach Julie Menendez was pleased with the Spartans' performance. Only 12 men made the trip to Chico while former SJS player Nils Bengtson coached a Wildcat squad of 30.

Tonight, the Spartans scrimmage Teutonia Soccer Club, San Francisco championship team, at Spartan Stadium at 8 p.m.

she is fresh and sophisticated, subtle and straightforward, complex and direct. Above all, a consummate performer, mixing improvisational flair with an effortless control of her songs and her audience. That's how Variety described "the electric climate of excitement" that Barbra creates. She ignites the spark whenever she performs — Basin Street East in New York, the Riviera in Las Vegas, or on records. That unique quality made The Barbra Streisand Album an immediate smash hit. The voltage is even higher on The Second Barbra Streisand Album.

Four Profs Return From Poli Sci Meet In New York City

Four members of the Political Science Department have returned from the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association held earlier this month in New York City.

Michael Hass, instructor; Dr. Charles H. Kunsman and Dr. Theodore M. Norton, both assistant professors; and Dr. Frederick A. Weed, department head, attended the meeting of research scholars, government administrators and college professors.

Former department member Dr. S. Laird Swagert also attended the conclave. Dr. Swagert is now with the Stanford Research Institute.

In his presidential address, professor Carl Friedrich of Harvard called for a new approach to civil rights with protection being given to social and economic rights as well as political rights, Dr. Weed reported.

Newman Club Set For Nominations Tomorrow Night

Nominations for officers of the San Jose State chapter of the Newman Club are scheduled for tomorrow night's meeting of the group.

The Newmanites will meet at 8 p.m. at the Newman Center, 79 S. Fifth St.

Reports from a group representative indicate that some 200 students attended last week's organizational meeting. At the session, plans for entering a float in the Homecoming Parade were discussed, with a committee ultimately being formed to plan the event.

Classes in religion will be offered at the club beginning the second week of October.

Father Cyril Leach, Newman Club chaplain, announced that the fall semester Catholic Student Retreat would be held in the chapel at the Catholic Women's Center from Sept. 30 through Oct. 3.

College Personnel Tour Air Center

Dean of Students Stanley C. Benz, Personnel Counselor Lowell M. Walter and Prof. Jack H. Holland toured the Air Force Training Center in San Antonio, Tex., last summer.

Army ROTC Installs Cadet Officers; Summers Named Battalion Commander

In a bugle and drum ceremony on the drill field Tuesday, Sept. 17, the Army ROTC installed its new cadet officers for the fall semester.

New cadet battalion commander is Grant Summers, a 23-year-old speech major from Mountain View.

He is active in Spartan Sabres, military students' honorary society, and a member of Theta Chi.

Other new cadet battalion officers are Joe Miller, executive; Bill Clennell, personnel; Bill Bull, intelligence; Mike Keough, training; and John Leatherman, supply.

SAM Announces Chapter Meeting

The Society for Advancement of Management (SAM), will hold its fall orientation meeting tomorrow evening at 7 in E132.

Anyone majoring in business or engineering is invited to attend, according to professor of business Jack H. Holland, adviser.

S.A.M. is the nationally recognized professional organization dedicated to the advancement of management in industry, commerce, government and education.

The SJS chapter is the largest department club on campus and has also been cited as the best chapter in the United States for the past four years.

San Jose Clubs Search for Talent

Interested in entertaining your community and making some money at the same time?

If so, see Dr. Gus C. Lease, associate professor of music and chairman of the pre-game shows, M253 11:30 any weekday morning. Dr. Lease pointed out that Rotary, Kiwanis, Argusy, and many other clubs are presently looking for entertainment.
